Message from the President

Chartered Accountants are required to develop and maintain their professional competence necessary to provide high quality services to clients, employers, and other stakeholders to strengthen public trust in the accountancy profession.

At the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Pakistan, we strongly feel a responsibility to provide diverse avenues and opportunities for the professional development of our members in their professional journey.

In today's competitive world, continuing professional development is the only way for the Chartered Accountants to remain competent and relevant. To support this, the Institute as well as its committees are providing organized CPD programs for its members to keep them updated on business and finance trends and provide state of the art trainings which makes them adept in managing and leading today's businesses.

I am pleased to see this initiative of providing a consolidated CPD Programs Catalogue 2022 which includes CPD programs planned for the year, making it easier for our members to select the right trainings at the right time. This will be the one stop solution for our members to plan their professional development activities in advance. I appreciate the efforts of our committees and regional committee conveners in putting together this Catalogue.

The professional development of our members holds utmost importance for the Institute and I am certain that the wisdom and intellect of the entire CA fraternity in the journey of excellence will enlighten the path of progressive transformation.

Messages from the CPD Conveners

Message from the CPD Convener South

ICAP, through its endeavors, aims to update its members and affiliates on various regulations and technological trends keeping in mind the expectations of the stakeholders in accordance with the changing economic scenario. It is vital for the profession to comprehend and realize that the business transformation taking place worldwide needs to be utilized effectively towards the sustainable growth of the profession. This requires professionals to redefine their roles and contribution to society at large. We aim to equip current and future members with the skills and capabilities required for their future roles.

Keeping this in view, we are pleased to present the ICAP CPD Programs Catalogue for our members to ensure members are suitably prepared to plan their future CPD needs. We believe that the Catalogue will help our members in frequently reviewing and refreshing their competency needs so that the skills and professional development they require are relevant and updated. We look forward to serving you better. Please do not hesitate to reach out should you need more support.

About CPD Programs

The Institute of Chartered Accountants of Pakistan offers an extensive range of programs demonstrating its dedication and commitment to high quality professional development and leading-edge content.

The programs cover a wide array of subjects, round the year, not limited to Professional Ethics, Corporate and Tax Laws, Forensic, Internal Auditing, Finance, Accounting and IFRS, Data Science, Microsoft Excel, and Leadership Skills Development programs.

ICAP engages top-class training specialists, coaches and mentors, who are gurus in their own fields. The offerings leverage the knowledge of the members and create engaging, practical trainings, which endows participants with applied knowledge that actually results in a tangible impact on business performance.

Instructional Design Approach

The Institute's instructional design approach integrates the learners as individuals with real-time polling, stake competition in the group, and bringing in application through real-life scenario discussions, case-studies and simulations to enable participants internalize the material presented. Such an approach provides hands-on learning to assist professionals in applying the knowledge in real business contexts rather than understanding them in isolation.

What we can do for you

Support your professional development by helping you to focus on specific areas in order to become a technically and commercially insightful accountant.

Provide application-level acumen – not just the theory – so that you go back to your organizations with practical solutions.
